Art Unit: 1771

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 2/27/06 has been entered.

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-2, 4, 6, 11, 12, 16-17, 19, 21-22, 25-27, 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Trokhan, U.S. Patent No. 4,637,859. Trokhan discloses a tissue product having a basis weight of 9-95 gsm, wherein the tissue comprises an undulating surface of low density pillow regions and high density knuckle regions. See col. 19, line 67 – col. 20, lines 14. The basis weight of the sheet can either be uniform or different but the densities or the two regions are always different so that the pillow regions have a lower density than the knuckles. See col. 19, lines 1-53. The tissue can further comprise wet strength additives. See col. 4, lines 23-59. With regard to the fiber length set forth in claims 16 and 30, it is noted that bleached northern softwood kraft pulp has an average fiber length of approximately 1.07 mm. See col. 5, lines 45-52 of Skoog et al, U.S.

Patent No. 6,17,370. It is noted that Skoog et al is not part of the rejection but is cited to show the length of the fibers already disclosed in Trokhan. Trokhan teaches that the tissue product can further comprise additional layers. See col. 21, lines 25-29. . With regard to the claimed modulus to tensile strength ratio and maximum stretch, Trokhan et al does not disclose these values per se, however, Trokhan et al does appear to disclose the same structure. When the reference discloses all the limitations of a claim except a property or function, and the examiner cannot determine whether or not the reference inherently possesses properties which anticipate or render obvious the claimed invention the examiner has basis for shifting the burden of proof to applicant as in In re Fitzgerald, 619 F.2d 67, 205 USPQ 594 (CCPA 1980). See MPEP § § 2112-2112.02. Since Trokhan et al appears to disclose the identical structure but does not explicitly recite the claimed properties, the burden is shifted to Applicant to show that the Trokhan et al material does not possess the claimed properties.

5. Claims 13-14, 28-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Trokhan, U.S. Patent No. 4,637,859 as applied to claims 1-2, 4, 6, 11, 12, 16-17, 19, 21-22, 25-27, 30 above, and further in view of Phan et al, U.S. Patent No.

6,328,850. Trokhan discloses a tissue product as set forth above. Trokhan differs from the claimed invention because Trokhan does not disclose that the tissue can have more than one layer wherein fibers having a length of greater than equal to 1.5 mm is positioned between two layers having an average fiber length of less than 1.5 mm.

Phan et al discloses a multi-layered paper product wherein an inner layer may comprise relatively long fibers having a length of 2.5 mm or greater which is sandwiched by outer layers comprising fibers having a length of less than 1.5 mm. See col. 4, lines 37 – col. 3, line 10. Phan teaches that this distribution of fiber lengths in a tissue product produces a tissue having excellent softness, strength and bulk. See col. 2, lines 55-67. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have formed the paper sheet of Trokhan so that it had fibrous layers having the fiber lengths taught by Phan, motivated by the expectation that this would produce a tissue having excellent softness, strength and bulk.

6. Applicant's arguments have been fully considered but are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.

7. Applicant's amendments to the claims have overcome the 112 2nd paragraph rejections.
